PREVENTING WINDOW FALLS

Did you know that windows are among the top five hazards in the home? Most falls aren't fatal, but more than a quarter result in intensive care stays.

Children are naturally curious, and open windows can pose a serious risk. If you live in Southwest Region privatized housing, your provider is installing safety devices throughout PPV neighborhoods. But keep in mind—some junior Houdinis might figure out how to disable them. That's why active parental supervision remains the best way to keep our kids safe.
